

Digital Storytelling tutorials

17. Removing the red cross disease!!

It is vitally important that you keep all your image and sound files together in a folder and that you do not move them around during the construction of your project!

If you move the files from the original location they were in when you IMPORTED them into Moviemaker the links will be broken, and a nasty looking red cross will appear on the image or sound file in Moviemaker.

Don't panic – it is easy to fix. Firstly check whether you have mistakenly imported files direct from a CD or other mobile source. If this is the case, re-insert the CD into the CD drive and copy all files into your project folder on the hard drive.

Right click on the red cross and then on the BROWSE FOR MISSING FILE option.

If possible Moviemaker will automatically locate the file and re-establish the link to it. If this is the case the image will automatically reappear for you. Otherwise browse for the file yourself.

If the file was located in another drive you will be directed to that source. If this happens go into MY COMPUTER and move the file into your project folder before re-establishing the link.

The easy way out is to keep your files well organised and do not move them around!